HOW HE ASSAILED M'KINLEY'S PRES ENT POLICY IN 1898.

His Vigorous Picture of the Folly and the Crime of Keeping the Philippines and of the Awful Consequences to Us-Means Centralization.

In the Chicago Times-Herald on May 22, 1898, Senator Chauncey M. Depew had the following interview, obtained and signed by George Grantham Bain and copyrighted:

When I asked Mr. Depew what he thought should be done with the Philippine Islands he drew in his breath and said: "That's a pretty big question." Then he pushed back his chair from his desk and swung around until he half faced me.

"If we should keep the Philippine Islands," said Mr. Depew, "we would reverse the traditions of this Government from its foundation. We would open up a new line of policy.

"Let us see what that would mean. In the first place it would mean the establishment of a military government over possibly ten millions of people 6000 miles away from us; it would mean the increase of our navy to the proportion of the navies of Europe."

"Not to the proportion of England's navy," I suggested.

"To the navy of France and Germany," said Mr. Depew. "It would mean the increase of our army to 150.-000-more likely to 200,000 men. It would mean the increase of our annual expenditures to double what they are now. It would mean that the United States Government would be brought in closer contact with the people than ditions that made their lives only proever before in the history of this country.

"We have known that there is a Federal Government only as representing our flag, our nationality and glorious traditions, but we have not felt the burden of its support or been confronted with the possibility of the payment of an enormous annual military tax, except during the Civil War. In Europe, where great armies and navies are maintained, the people are taxed directly for their maintenance. Our revenues have been obtained heretofore by indirect taxation, with the exception of a slight tax on whisky.

"But with the therease of our expen ditures by 100 per cent, the taxes to support the Government would be feit in our homes and in our offices. We would feel them in both the necessaries and luxuries of life-in our houses, in our tools, in our food, in our clothing, in our carriages and in our wagons, in our caeeks and notes and bonds and transfers of property-in every transaction of our every-day business life. For if we are to maintain great armies and navies like the powers of Europe we must raise the revenue for them by the means mentioned, and also by a stamp tax that will face us at every turn.

"These conditions are contrary to our present form of government. Today we know that the customs collector exists. He sits in his office at the custom house and few of us ever think of him-fewer still have ever seen him or felt the taxes collected through him, Under the new regime tax collectors would necessarily be excise men with offices everywhere. They would be known not only in New York and the other great centres of commerce, but in every town, village and hamlet in the United States. Our people respond with patriotic alacrity to every burden, sacrifice or tax for the successful ence. By artificially enhancing the carrying on of war. Whether they would with equal cheerfulness do the same for the new policy of the colonial empire furnishes food for consideration.

"What also does a world-wide policy mean to us? It means a centralization which would change materially the relations of the United States to the Federal Government. The control of these populous colonies would be centred at Washington, and we should have a centralization of power far beyond what the old Federalists ever dreamed of. You cannot have empire without all its attributes, and that means a practical revolution of our form of government and an abandonment of the beliefs which the fathers held when they established this Government in 1776,"

I asked Mr. Depew if it was not possible to derive from these proposed colonles a revenue greater than the additional expenditure which their possession would involve.

"How," said Mr. Depew, "by taxation? Every time you arrempt to collect a tax from these people they ers? Why fire and sword for enlightwould rise, and you would have to call on your military force to suppress them. And suppress them for what? For doing what John Hancock did? They might quote against us our immortal declaration that taxation without representation is tyranny."

Are There No Trusts?

Are there no trusts? Ask the men who used to work in the rolling mills. Are there no tensis? Ask the men who used to work in the bicycle factories, Are there no trusts? Ask the inde pendent manufacturers or the small merchants, or anybody, in fact, except M. A. Hanna.

No trusts, indeed! The woods are full of trusts and every one is a menace to labor. But, there's a way to get rid of 'em and that way isn't by

A Belated Discovery.

Chairman Hanna should have made his discovery that there are no trusts in the United States before the Republican platform was constructed and government by the people, of the peobefore President McKinley had write pie, for the people. He closes his first ten his letter of acceptance. It would bern as the chief operator of a Gov have saved the platform makers and exament of the people, by the trusts, the President much auxious thought, for the trusts.

THE "FULL DINNER PAIL" FAKE, An Insult to the Intelligence of the American Workman.

The Republican campaign argument entitled "The full dinner pail" is at once a fraud and an insult to the intelligence and the morality of the American workingman.

A fraud, because in spite of all that a subsidized press and a "personally conducted" corps of campaign speak ers can say, the administration of William McKinley has not meant unlimited prosperity for the American workingmen.

The thousands of unfortunates who have walked the streets of all our great cities through the long cold months of every winter, willing to work, but with no work to do, and therefore no food, save the dole of charity, and no shelter, save the police station, are a terrible flaw in the picture of general prosperity. The thousands of farmers of the Eastern States who sell the products of their hard toil to-day for the same price that they commanded four years ago and pay for the necessities of life an increased price, are not sharers in prosperity.

The hundreds of thousands of men in our great cities whom intolerable wage conditions have forced to try the terrible remedy of strikes and who have found themselves beaten and bafiled by the combinations of capital against which they fought, and who face the coming winter, impoverished by a summer of enforced idle ness, know that the story of prosperity is a deceit and a spare

The great armies of miners who are even now in revolt against conlonged starvation, while the corporations they served fattened on the product of their toil, know that the 'full dinner pail" is a fraud.

But we said that the "full dinner pail" argument is an insult to American workingmen, and it is. A brute a beast, can be tolled with a dish of fodder to any slavery, but a man, an American freeman, whether he wears broadcloth or jeans, knows that there are higher interests than those that are represented by so much bread and meat. A Government has not done all that it ought to for the people whose interests it is supposed to serve when it has given them food, even in plenty; and the Republican party when it seeks to cover the gross immoralities of its four years of power with a dinner pail; when it says to the workingmen of America,"Fill your bellies with fodder and, like beasts, forget that there are weightier considerations than something to eat," insults every houest man,—New Voice,

How the Trusts Steal Savings. "I earn the same wages I did two years ago. I have no new expenses. I am more careful than ever about my expenditures. Yet I find that where I had two or three dollars of my wages left at the end of the week two or three yers ago I have nothing left now."

That paragraph expresses the thought of many a workingman. He wonders why it is that he saves nothing now, even with greater economy, when he had a little balance left in his packet at the end of the week heretofore

The explanation is that given by the Anthraelte Coal Miners' Union. Living expenses, they assert, have "increased fully thirty per cent, in two years." The trusts make the differets of the workingman the little bulance each week that formerly swelled his savings. Many a workingman wonders why the wage that formerly supported his family runs short now. The answer is the same. A trust made increase of the cost of living, "fully thirty per cent," means the loss of his savings to one workingman and pinching and debt to another,

A Puzzle.

If the people of the Philippine Islands are incapable of managing their own affairs and must be shot into submission-

Why does Mr. McKinley apply this principal to the Christian population which wishes to set up a republic under American protection;

And refuse to apply it to Suin, where he has granted autonomy under American protection to a Mahometan des pot, has guaranteed polygamy and slavery and has granted subsidies to he royal barems?

Why treaties and subsidies for Mahometan polygamists and slave-hold ened Christians?

The Mask Pulled off.

The effort to hide imperialism in this campaign has failed at every point. Imperialism taxes Porto Rico without her consent; it imposes military rule on Cuba long after Cuba should have had her own chance; it loots Cuban revenues; it earries on a war of subjugation and extermination in the Philippines. The mask is pulled off, and President McKinley could not say today, "Imperialism is impossible."

Sheliered by the Tariff.

Taiking about trusts, there are fifty or sixty very obnoxious ones that would have to go out of business it the tariff shelter under which they rot should be taken away. There is no voting the Republican ticket, either,- not go to the root of the evil by in-. . sisting upon the repeal of all legisla ion which encourages their formation and fosters their growth.
